DESCRIPTION / MISSION:

The Conciliation Court is a mandated service to counsel parties whose marriage problems can, or may be resolvable without dissolution of marriage. Additionally, medication has been required of divorcing couples with children to attempt to resolve those aspects of their disputes. Mediation has significantly reduced the anger level of participants, reduced the court staff and time requirements and provided a forum for parties to resolve later disputes. Since dissolution proceedings are the second most risky actions for harm to court staff, safety of the staff is enhanced.
